This Week's Focus

Math - We will continue to add and subtract mixed numbers and multiply fractions. There will be a test during the week of 2/21-2/23. I will review with a study guide prior to the test.

Science - We will be wrapping up our study of the solar system and the systems of the Earth-Sun-Moon this coming week. Our next portion of the space unit will be stars and star patterns.

Reading, Writing & Grammar - We will be focusing on persuasive writing during this three day week. We will focus on correct sentence structure & ways to make our writing "spicy."

Social Studies - We will discuss Western Expansion of the US.

Reminder

There are a lot of sicknesses going around. Please make sure that your child is 24 hour fever and medicine free before sending him/her back to school. Also, make sure it has been 24 hours
